

```
% parent(X,Y) means: X is a % male(X) means:
% parent (father or mother) of Y
                                       % X is a male person
parent (alex, julia).
                                       male(alex).
                                       male(romeo).
parent (alex, rosa).
parent (lina, julia).
                                       male (oscar).
parent (lina, rosa).
                                       male (peter).
parent (romeo, peter).
                                       male (bruno) .
parent(julia, peter).
                                       male (georg).
parent (rosa, silvia).
                                       male (otto).
parent (oscar, ida).
                                       male(pascal).
parent (eva, ida).
                                       male(jean).
parent (eva, bruno).
                                       % husband(X,Y) means:
parent (peter, bruno).
                                       % X is the husband of Y
parent (peter, georg).
                                       husband(alex, lina).
parent (peter, irma).
parent (ruth, georg).
                                       husband (romeo, julia).
parent (ruth, irma).
                                       husband (oscar, eva).
parent (silvia, otto).
                                       husband (peter, ruth) .
                                       husband (otto, irma).
parent (silvia, pascal).
parent(irma, olga).
                                       husband (jean, marie).
parent(irma, jean).
parent (otto, olga).
parent (otto, jean).
parent (jean, tina).
parent (marie, tina).
```